The Wartburg Trumpet

VOICE OF THE KNIGHTS

Volume 56 Wartburg College, Waverly, Iowa, Saturday, May 11, 1963 Number 28

Editor Will Soon Step Down

By Marvin Ackerman

After four years of Trumpet activity, senior Elaine Melchert says that she will miss the weekly activity of putting out a paper.

Her freshman year she was staff reporter, the next year news editor. As a junior she served as managing editor and this year as editor-in-chief.

"At times I have felt that the responsibility involved was too great and would have readily given up my job if the opportunity had come up. But now, looking back, I can only see the benefits of this experience," she commented.

"And I would definitely do it again," she added.

From Maquoketa, Elaine is an English major and has a journalism minor. She would like to do some free-lance writing after graduation.

Not too many frustrating experiences have popped up this year, but the greatest one occurred a few weeks ago. When it came time on Friday night to plan the make-up for Saturday's Trumpet, she was short 40-column inches of printed copy.

Elaine has a definite philosophy on the purpose of any school newspaper.

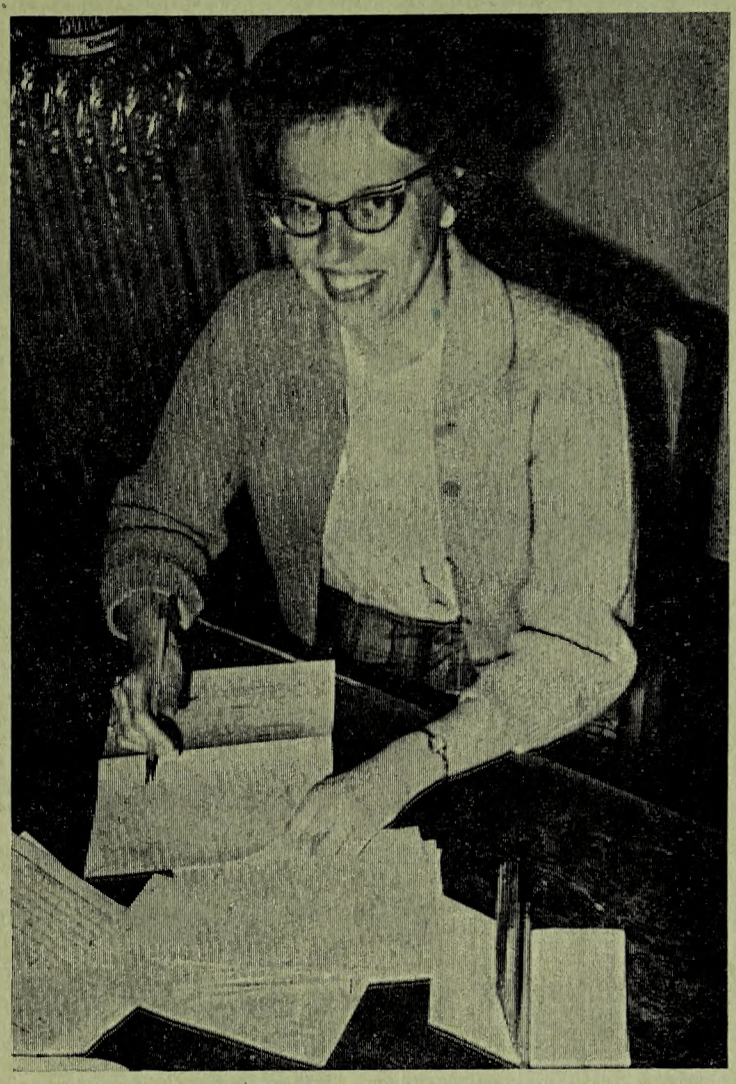
She said, "I feel that a college paper should not be merely a sounding board for campus events, but rather should stimulate thought, exert influence where posible and provide some enjoyment.'

One of her most memorable experiences was seeing her first issue come out. On the other hand, Elaine's pet peeve is the transferring of Trumpets directly from mailboxes to trash cans.

During her four years at Wartburg, Elaine has attended three journalism conventions. She attended the Associate Collegiate Press Conference in Chicago her sophomore year and this year traveled to Detroit for a similar meeting.

Last year she attended the Iowa Collegiate Press Association convention held here on the Wartburg campus.

On-campus activity has seen the editor in Hans Sachs, serving as secretary this year. Alpha Phi Gamma has held her membership for the past three years. She has been both secretary-treasurer and president of this honorary journalism society. She has also been a student librarian for three years.



RETIRING TRUMPET EDITOR, Elaine Melchert, prepares final copy for her last two issues.

Summers have found Elaine working as a waitress in Wisconsin Dells. Last summer, though, she traveled in Europe and spent eight weeks working in a German bakery.

What about the future? The Trumpet leader has accepted a job as assistant women's editor of the Clinton Herald, a daily newspaper.

"The Trumpet's greatest weakness," Elaine said, "is the fact that it is only a weekly. This way much of the news gets stale. Its biggest problem is finding enough advertisements to put out more and larger papers.

"I also have a problem finding sufficient subjects on which to write my editorials," she added.

Homecoming Set

By Myrna Lau

Next year's Homecoming plans are already in progress according to co-chairmen Bob Bone and Gwen Parlin. Since it will be a few weeks earlier than last year, more has to be done this spring, according to Bone.

HOMECOMING DATE has been set for Oct. 19. Wartburg Knights will be battling the Peacocks of Upper Iowa at Schield Stadium.

"Christ Universal" will be the religious theme for the weekend. The secular theme is still open for consideration of the central committee.

Numerous innovations are planned for next year. Queens from other conference colleges will be invited to be here the day of the football game.

"I AM ALSO WORKING to establish a 'migration day' of Upper Iowa students down here for the football game. To accomplish this, I am contacting the Upper Iowa athletic director and also their student body officials," said Bone.

A special event will be a reunion held for the student body presidents and vice presidents of the past 15 years.

Plans now are to center the publicity for the weekend around the fact that the football game will be a "battle for the bell" with Upper Iowa.

To increase the size and color of the parade, the Upper Iowa band will be invited to participate, along with more high school bands.

A GREATER AMOUNT of time will be devoted to the Homecoming queen at the Kastle Kapers production. There will also be a new approach and possibly a new location of the bonfire, said Bone.

Another anticipated change will be a banquet on Saturday evening in place of the usual smorgasbord.

"Since Homecoming will be early, the usual Reformation service on Sunday will not take place. Tentative activities planned for Sunday afternoon are a band concert and a president's reception. There will also be an Artist Series that night," said Miss Parlin.

Mystery convo, Lora Froehlich, sophomore; campus decorations, Marilyn Fick and Dave Minor, freshmen; tickets, sophomore Doug Langholz conclude the list.

Sophomore Donna Meyer and junior Maxine Bauer will take care of all campus religious activities.

"Because of our excellent committee chairmen, we are hoping Homecoming of '63 will be the best it could possibly be," according to Miss Parlin and Bone.

Any students interested in serving on any of the committees should contact Bob Bone in North Hall or Gwen Parlin in Centennial Hall.

Gregg Shorthand Sponsors Confab

Wartburg's Business Department and the Gregg Division of McGraw-Hill will co-sponsor a shorthand seminar on campus May 18.

This will be the only Gregg Diamond Jubilee Series to be held in the state of Iowa. Over one hundred business educators from high schools and colleges are expected to attend, according to Melvin Kramer, head of the Business Department.

MISS AUDREY SCHMIDT of the New York editorial division will be in charge of the day's program. She is currently educational director of Gregg magazines, editor of "Today's Secretary" and director of the Gregg Awards program.

Purpose of the seminar is to discuss simplification of theory and theory principle changes; changes in brief forms and word beginnings and endings; changes in methods of teaching the new system; and greater emphasis on transcription and basic changes in the book.

This seminar was made possible through the cooperation of Don Fruehling, Iowa Gregg representative. He will also have a display in the lobby of the Chapel-auditorium.

REGISTRATION WILL be in the foyer of the Chapel-auditorium, and morning and afternoon sessions will be held in the Chapel-auditorium. Luncheon will be at Carver's.

"To illustrate the excellence of its originator, John Robert Gregg," said Kramer, "the Gregg Shorthand System has been revised only seven times since its original publication in 1888. The original 1888 alphabet has not been changed once."

Dept. To Expand

An expanded Modern Language Department is planned for next year, according to Dr. John O. Chellevold, dean of faculty.

Dr. Virgil L. Warren, professor of modern languages at the State University College of Education, Portland, N.Y., will be added to the faculty to teach second-year Spanish and French.

Dr. Warren received his B.A. from Georgetown University, Washington, D.C., and his Ph.D. from the University of Virginia, Charlottesville.

He has taught Spanish at the University of Virginia; at Carson-Newman College, Jefferson City, Tenn.; Winthrop College, Rock Hill, S.C., and Western Carolina College, Cullowhee, N.C.

He has also served as professor of English and Latin at Saitama University, Japan, and of French and Spanish at the University of California Extension in the Orient.

Dr. Warren is the author of several articles, learned journals and texts.

Dr. Virgil L. Warren

SB Meet, Panel To Mark Convo

Final student body meeting of the year will be held during convo Tuesday.

Installation of officers and election of cheerleaders will be the main points on the agenda, according to Student Body Pres. Dick Buchsteiner.

"What Is the Nature of the Communist Threat?" will be discussed by a panel of members from the International Relations class at convocation Thursday.

Chris Leo, Victor Lachica, Ernest Abajah, Carl Jech and Mike Sherer will make the presentation. Sherer will serve as moderator.

G. Rudolph Bjorgan of the History Department is adviser to the group.

Exam Change Made

Semester test schedule for seniors will be as listed on the test schedule for Saturday, May 25, and Monday, May 27, until noon, according to Dr. John O. Chellevold, dean of faculty.

All other senior exams will be given one week ahead of the time scheduled. Senior exams will therefore start at 12 noon on Monday, May 20.

Seniors Set Plans

Sixteen seniors are planning to attend seminary, and several others have signed fall teaching contracts.

Some future students at Wartburg Seminary, Dubuque, are Charles Knorr, Phil Borleske, Dick Buchsteiner, Eldon DeWeerth, Don Schoeppler, Mike Sherer.

OTHERS ARE Carl Jech, Jerry Staehling, Dave Brunscheen, Leon Schulz, Dave Garrels, Dan Diekhoff, Jim Mueller and Jan Horne.

Ron Rademacher and Harold Schlachtenhaufen will attend Luther Seminary at St. Paul, Minn., and Jim Johnston will attend Moravian Seminary, Bethlehem, Pa.

Seniors finding teaching jobs in Iowa are Verla Bartels, Nashua, elementary; Vivian Johnson, Carlisle, vocal music; and Patricia Dieterich, Garner, instrumental music.

MARILYN SCHLAKE, Dayton, high school vocal and instrumental music; Judith Smith, Churdan, elementary; Harold Webster, Allison, English; and Lucille Zenker, Waterloo, English.

Students working in other states are Richard Barton, Freeport, Ill., high school social studies; Paul Eichhorn, Appleton, Wis., Christian Day School; Diane Moericke, Milwaukee, Wis., elementary; and Mildred Zellmer, Bloomington, Minn., elementary.

Others include Carolyn Chatlos, Worth, Ill., elementary; Louise Loots, Michigan City, Ind., junior high English; and Karen Moeller, Sioux Falls, S.D., English.

EDITORIAL

Gripes Questioned

Gripe, Gripe, Gripe. Food is lousy. Lectures are dull and uninspiring. Students are apathetic and immature. Participation is poor and enthusiasm is dead. Athletes (glory boys) strut around as if they owned the place. Nobody studies, nobody works and nobody cares. These are comments often dropped around campus. If this is your complete attitude, you are an uninformed person.

On the Wartburg campus at this time we have 359 students holding campus jobs in addition to attending classes. Some students holding jobs rise early in the morning to drive school buses, work in the cafeteria, act as receptionist or prepare children for classes at the Children's Home.

Other students farm, wait on tables, work in filling stations, baby-sit, act as secretaries, librarians and clerks, clean, work in factories and do many other odd jobs. We're lazy?

It may be a bit easier to work for material gains, but students put in a good many hours of volunteer work. Every Wednesday a group of students visits Bartels Lutheran Home to bring cheer to people there. Wartburg students sometimes treat children from the Children's Home by bringing them to campus functions, a movie or the root beer stand. Some students have, on occasion, volunteered to baby-sit for faculty members to attend some function.

It would be difficult to count the number of hours students have spent making Campus Chest, Campus Carnival, Student Body Projects, Homecoming, Pops Concerts, Squire Days and Snow Weekend a success.

Last weekend, members of the junior class sponsored a banquet and prom that was "topnotch" in every aspect. Congratulations to those juniors who worked so hard to make it successful.

Are these examples of apathetic, immature, unparticipating students who don't care?

Athletes perhaps seem to get undue glory thrown their way, but imagine the hours they spend practicing when there is no glory — nothing but hard work. Athletes provide our chief contact with other schools. They also bring us favorable publicity when our teams excel.

Imagine feeding eight hundred students on approximately forty-six cents per meal and not receiving a gripe. Mrs. Grube perhaps has a thankless position, but not too many students appear to be suffering from malnutrition.

Academically, Wartburg students and teachers aren't a complete failure. Alumni are continually being recognized for accomplishments. Church officials, publication heads, music professionals and education leaders are but a few. These people reflect our "dull, uninspiring" teachers.

Wives of faculty members and faculty women donate time and talent by baking cakes. Money from these birthday cakes is given in scholarships for Wartburg women.

If teachers, housemothers and administrators of Wartburg would be paid by the hour, they certainly would be much wealthier.

Perhaps we're just patting ourselves on the back, but it is about time we realize, appreciate and consider the fact that Wartburg is offering something and will continue to make this offer.

"I thought the ground was covered with grass, not girls!"

Happiness is a pop quiz that didn't.

FIRST STATEMENT GIVEN

SBP Meyer Begins His Term

By Nelson Meyer

A new chapter was opened for student government last Monday evening as the new Senate took its first action. What that chapter will be like is still to be determined.

WE HAVE SEEN an increase in interest in student government this last year, and I think we can see some direct positive effect from it. I think this is evidenced in the number of students who ran for offices.

Meyer

But I wonder how deep this enthusiasm is and how true the interest is. Will we remain interested and willing to work and support our representatives, or will we sit back to watch our representatives "perform"? Only the coming year will tell.

I have a great deal of confidence in the new Senate. Judging from last Monday night, I think they are willing to do a lot of hard work. But no matter how talented they are or how hard they do work, they must have the students behind them if they are to achieve some success.

WITHOUT STUDENT support, Senate is merely another small group of 20 people voicing an opinion. With it, we are a representative body speaking for approximately 1,000 people, able to work efficiently and effectively.

I sincerely hope that the students will continue to give student government their support, helping where they can and keeping in contact with the Senate activities. If they do, I am confident that the coming year will be a successful and an enjoyable one.

Green Is For Staff

Green this week is not to match trees and grass of springtime, but to show that the experienced seniors are taking it easy and letting next year's staff take over.

Trumpet editor, Elaine Melchert, is relaxing and the "green" editor, Helene Kurtz, is trying to fill her shoes in preparation for next year.

New, Old Senators Meet

Newly elected Senators had their first regular meeting last Monday night with Nelson Meyer presiding.

At 7:45 p.m., both the old and the new Senate met together with this year's Student Body President Dick Buchsteiner in charge.

A recommendation to have a student representative on the Building Committee was unanimously passed by the old Senate. This recommendation, when drawn up, will be presented to President C. H. Becker.

FINAL PLANS for the Leadership Retreat, which was held today at Camp Ingawanis, were revealed. Mrs. A. E. Haefner and Dr. Edwin Schick were the speakers in the morning and afternoon, respectively.

This afternoon the members of both the old and the new Senates met together in their respective areas with the idea of orientating the new Senators regarding their positions.

MAJOR BUSINESS covered by the new Senate was a discussion of the Fall Pops Concert. Nominations are now open for chairman. Any student interested in serving in this capacity is asked to contact the new Student Body President Nelson Meyer.

New Senate committees for the school year 1963-64, as drawn up by the executive committee, were presented. Final approval of this list will not be made until next week.

BECKER'S BANTER

Spring Creates Love; Brings Exam Problems

It seems to be in the air, this feeling of spring and young love. The atmosphere is charged with much more than electricity. Perhaps the administration could be forced to admit a few things are lacking at Wartburg, but no one could deny the flourish of amorous couples on campus.

Becker

Classes are now being held on the riverbank at the convenience of those enrolled in the lab courses. That's not counting Conservation 310. As the Union becomes warmer, the river appears cooler to the students — who remain at the same temperature as the Union.

Although 50-mile hikes have not become a fad here, walking has gained in popularity, particularly in twos.

During the winter as the temperature fell, one could just keep adding clothes for warmth. But in summer as the temperature rises, one can only take off as many clothes as modesty or the law allows.

Firemen may have been thwarted in their attempts to rescue pajama-clad girls from a non-existent fire, but the railroadmen are doing their utmost to make sure a train will never be derailed in the dry run as swim-suited girls soak up the sun. Such devotion to duty is commendable.

The annual ritual to the sun god has begun. Prostrate girls, anointed with oil, present themselves as burnt offerings. They make daily pilgrimages to their place of worship, the dry run. Their religious garb is brief attire covered by a shroud until they reach their holy ground.

Males are affected by this sun worship as well, though less conspicuously. Dressed in Bermudas, they attempt to tan under the pretense of playing catch or tennis or by boating.

From the romantic and relaxed atmosphere on campus, one would never know that semester exams loom before all in the immediate future.

Knights Race Norse Today

By Doug Goke and Mike Becker

Wartburg cindermen today take on a fine team from Luther College in what should be the toughest single meet this year. The Norse are especially strong in the mile, two-mile and shot-put.

Luther took first place in a field of 13 teams last weekend at Rock Island in the Viking Olympics, finishing with a total of 62 points. Valparaiso took second place with 50 points; Augustana third with 27 points; and Wartburg fourth with 26½ points.

Lothar Columbus made a fine showing at the Olympics as he bettered the Wartburg two-mile record by 13 seconds with the time of 9:54. Because he did not take first place in the event, the record will not stand. Columbus also placed third in the mile.

Len Schmidt was one of two men who captured a first place for the Knights, as he won the high jump by jumping 6' 2".

Bob Wachholz took the other first as he threw the javelin 187'. Joel Niemann tied for second in the high jump and Jerry Schara took fourth. Gary Leeper gained a fifth place in the javelin throw.

Another point-getter for Wartburg was Tom Schwab as he placed fifth in the pole vault.

The mile relay team of Harold Shudlick, Bill Davis, Bill Riggle and Jerry Zehr finished in fourth place.

Knights rolled over a weak Simpson team Tuesday by the lop-sided score of 97-34. Locals captured 12 first places out of a possible 14.

Ted Johnson captured two firsts as he won the 100-yard dash with the time of 11 seconds. He also won the broad jump with a leap of 21'.

Mike Peich tossed the shot for a distance of 44' 10½". Niemann and Zehr placed one-two in the 120 hurdles with a winning time of 16.7 seconds.

Jim Reents placed second in the 880-yard run as the baldheaded Jim Kaldenberg from Simpson won the event. Zehr and Niemann took first and second place in low hurdles. Tom Schwab finished third in the 100-yard dash.

Riggle and Johnson captured first and second place in the 220-yard dash with the winning time of 24.1. Roger Palmer took second in the mile. Davis and Riggle captured second and third in the 440.

Schmidt again won the high jump by clearing 6' 1", as Niemann took second. Peich took another first as he won the discus with a throw of 123' 6½".

The mile relay team set a new record as the Knights ran the mile in 3:26.6. Columbus won the two-mile for his second first of the day with the time of 10:16.3, and Palmer finished second.

In the javelin throw, Wartburg swept the first three places as Wachholz threw the spear 176' 7½". Leeper and Peich finished second and third.

In the pole vault, Wartburg again swept the first three places as Schwab, Fliehler and Zehr cleared the bar with Fliehler vaulting 12' to win.

Linksters Busy; Face Norsemen

Knight golfers face Luther Norsemen at Decorah today. Tuesday they will face the Buena Vista Beavers at Waverly as a warm-up for the conference tournament next Saturday on the Waverly course.

In order to end the season with a winning dual match record, the linksters must win their two remaining matches.

In past action, the Knights suffered a defeat at the hands of the Luther team 10-5, despite the shooting of Milt Marschall, who had a 68, two below par.

Wednesday at Dubuque the hackers salvaged a tie with Platteville State 7½-7½, while losing to Loras 11-4. Lone victors against Loras were Milt Marschall and Harry Jebsen. Marschall, Jebsen and Bruce Hein won, to gain the tie with Platteville State.

Netsters Meet Upper Ia. Today

In the last dual match of the year, Knight netmen take on the Upper Iowa squad today at Waverly as a warmup for the Iowa Conference tournament to be held here next weekend.

In last week's action, the netmen won their initial victory with a 6-1 decision over Simpson at Indianola on Friday. However, the victory has been followed by successive defeats at the hands of Central and arch-rival Luther by scores of 5-2 and 7-2, respectively.

Victories in the Luther match were scored by two doubles teams. Jerome Shinkay and John Thalacker defeated Hanson and Tolman 6-2, 6-4, while Dennis Brown and Doug Langholz defeated Olson and Erich 6-3, 5-7, 6-4.

Conf. Tourneys Here Sat.

Wartburg College will host three conference meets this coming weekend. Track, tennis and golf teams will all host their respective competitors. As an added attraction on Friday, the Spring Sports Queen will be crowned.

Luther appears to be the top candidate for all titles. The Norsemen appear to be the class of the field, but may meet stiffer competition in the other meets.

Last year, the Knights placed fifth in the conference track meet, fourth in the tennis meet and seventh in the golf meet.

"All students are urged to come and cheer the Knights on to victory," said Athletic Director John Kurtt.

Baseballers Busy; Face Upper Iowa

By Al Zimmermann

Wartburg diamondmen, now tied with Simpson for fifth place in the Iowa Conference, will meet fourth-place Upper Iowa in a league twin-bill this afternoon on the home diamond.

A double win today will give Wartburg a 6-4 league record and a possible third-place berth in the conference standings, depending on the outcome of other games in the league.

Upper Iowa turned the conference baseball race into a big question mark last Monday by defeating the previously unbeaten Buena Vista team 4-1 and 2-1.

A double-header between Wartburg and Buena Vista was rained out last Saturday.

Wartburg hitters may have to face pitchers Pete Turano and Lloyd Brockshus in today's contest. Turano struck out nine Buena Vista players in last Monday's series.

Knight coach Earnest Oppermann said that Upper Iowa has one of the finest second basemen around.

He added, "They have a good ball club."

In last Tuesday's twin-bill with Simpson, Larry Jandrey pitched a two-hitter to defeat the Knights in the second game 5-1. Wartburg won the opener 6-5 after 11 innings of play.

Knight centerfielder Ray Bye batted in four runs in the first game. He hit a solo homer in the seventh to tie up the game and, in the top of the 11th, drove Roger Kittleson home with a double for the winning run.

Coach Oppermann said that the opener with Simpson was the first time this season that the Knights have really failed defensively. They had two errors on two consecutive plays, followed by a two-base error. Simpson got its first three runs on no hits.

Gary Medlang replaced Leon Carley on the pitcher's mound in the seventh and finished the inning, allowing two runs. Both teams failed to score until Bye's double in the 11th.

In the second game Kurt Marshek replaced Dave Langrock on the mound in the fifth, but gave up three hits for three Simpson runs.

For today's twin-bill the lineup will remain as it was for the Simpson series with the possible exceptions of second and third bases. Second will be played by either Dick Ridout or Bill Fulcher, and third will be handled by Lowell Grunwald or Frank Merrill.

The league championship is no longer a question of what the Knights do, but rather a question of what will happen to Buena Vista. William Penn, Dubuque and Central all still have a chance to defeat the Beavers this season.

"The Iowa Conference is much better balanced this year than it has been for the past few years," said Oppermann. He added, "It's tougher to win."

Wartburg diamondmen will play a double-header at Parsons next Wednesday and will complete league competition here next Saturday in a two-game series with William Penn.

Wartburg Mothers Have Reason To Celebrate Day

By Linda Stull

As Mother's Day approaches, it is time for some important members of our campus to receive recognition. They are the housemothers of the Wartburg dormitories.

Mrs. Lucille Wagner is completing her sixth year as housemother. Previous to this year she lived in Vollmer Hall. She is now in Hebron Hall.

Mrs. Wagner is from Mason City, where she worked in an apparel store. She has two daughters living in Mason City and is the proud grandmother of six grandchildren. She has been housemother to approximately eight hundred Wartburg women.

WHEN ASKED what she thought of her job, she said, "I think it is very rewarding work in spite of occasional difficulties."

Mrs. Lydia Miller has been "Mom" to the men of Grossmann Hall for five years. She estimates the number of boys that have passed through her flock at about seven hundred fifty.

Mrs. Miller is from Cedar Rapids and worked in a large department store there. She has two children and four grandchildren. In addition to her duties as housemother, she has served as band tour chaperone three times.

MISS NEORA Janssen has nearly completed her first year as housemother. Hailing from Wyoming, Ill., she cheerfully mothers 92 girls in Centennial Hall. A graduate of the University of Illinois, Miss Janssen holds her B.A. degree with a major in home economics. She worked as a bookkeeper in a lumberyard before her arrival at Wartburg.

Clinton Hall's smiling housemother is Mrs. Augusta Allenstein, who is completing her fifth year as mother of the Crusaders. Before coming to Wartburg, she was a housewife and worked in a shoe store in Manchester.

She has two children and three grandchildren. Her son, a Wartburg graduate, lives in Houston, Tex. Her daughter, who also attended Wartburg, lives in Williams, Calif., and is a nurse.

Mrs. Allenstein has been housemother to nearly six hundred ten Clinton men, whom she says are "usually pretty good except when they get in water fights."

HOUSEMOTHER OF Wartburg Hall is Mrs. Arlene Slack. Before coming to Wartburg three years ago, Mrs. Slack lived in Waterloo. She was floor supervisor in a store there.

Mrs. Slack has two children and a granddaughter. Her daughter, Sharon, is a freshman at Wartburg. Her son graduated from Wartburg four years ago and is now teaching at Ackley.

Mrs. Slack has been housemother to nearly three hundred girls. She described her work as enjoyable.

These are the "moms of Wartburg." Several have the unusual opportunity of being mothers in their own families as well as to hundreds of students in the Wartburg family.

HAPPY MOTHER'S DAY to "moms" nine months of the year. Mrs. Wagner, Miss Janssen, Mrs. Allenstein, Mrs. Slack and Mrs. Miller share the joys and sorrows of students throughout the semesters.

Humor Fills Final Films

An evening of comedy is planned for the last films sponsored by the English Department. Films "A Night with Charlie Chaplin," a series of four movies, and "Bank Dick," starring W. C. Fields, will provide the evening entertainment.

This double feature will be held next Wednesday in the Chapel-auditorium. The first feature begins at 7:30 p.m. Admission is free for this humor-filled evening.

Concert Outside

Wartburg Band will present an "Open Air Concert" at 7 p.m. Tuesday, in front of Luther Hall on the mall. In case of bad weather, the concert will be given in the Chapel-auditorium.

Conducting the concert will be the band's regular director, Robert E. Lee; Paul G. Hendrickson, guest conductor from Green Bay, Wis.; and four senior instrumental music majors, Dennis Wesenberg, Linda Blobaum, Patricia Dieterich and Vivian Johnson.

Hendrickson will conduct the premiere performance of "Fjord Symphony," his original composition for band. Hendrickson has his B.A. degree from Luther and his M.A. from Michigan State.

He taught woodwind instruments at Appleton, Wis., and at Green Bay, Wis., and is a member of the Green Bay Symphony Orchestra. Some of his compositions include chamber music for cello, clarinet and woodwind quartets.

Other numbers include "Pageant" by Vincent Persichetti, 'An Original Suite for Military Band" by Gordon Jacob, several marches and lighter numbers.

Cook-out Arranged

An all-school cook-out is being sponsored by the Social Activities Committee this Friday at the old Outfly grounds, according to Darryl Ahnemann, chairman.

Each student is asked to provide his own food for the outing. Pop and potato chips will be sold at the grounds.

Boat rides, volleyball and songs around the campfire will provide the evening's entertainment.

New Director Named

Richard Wiederanders, Engineering Department, has been named director of KWAR, according to Dr. J. O. Chellevold, dean of faculty. He will be replacing Dr. Edwin Sandberg, English Department.

New student officers for the school year 1963-64 are juniors Verle Reinicke, station manager; Terry Havel, program director; and sophomore Larye Parkins, chief engineer.

Reinicke and Havel are incumbents while Parkins has been serving as chief engineer since January.

Nine To Attend Ashram

Fifteen colleges from the Iowa region of the Lutheran Student Association of America are meeting at Pilgrim Heights Camp near Tama this weekend.

Little Ashram this year is under the theme "Living Christ in Society." Dr. Karl Schmidt of Wartburg is the principle speaker for the meeting.

"This is one of the few real opportunities we have for a religious intercollegiate activity with schools other than our own Lutheran ones," said Margaret Judt, president of the local chapter of LSA. Wartburg is the only American Lutheran college at the conference.

"James Olson, the national representative of LSAA, plans to be there and should have a few interesting things to say," added Miss Judt.

Wartburg students at the meeting are seniors Dave Garrels and Carolyn Grout, juniors Marcia Brenton and Miss Judt, sophomores Shirley Zellmer, John Yagow, Alfred Kruse and Donna Meyer and freshman Gail Seedorf. Dr. Robert Dell and Professor James Moniz are attending as advisers.

Student To Germany

Miss Darlene Wesenberg of Portage, Wis., will be attending Bonn University in Bonn, Germany, next fall, according to a confirmation received Wednesday by Dr. John O. Chellevold, dean of faculty.

However, no word has yet been received concerning the German student or students who will be coming to Wartburg.

Presently, John Ferguson and Jim Zeller of Wartburg are attending Bonn University while Germans Frank Reuter and Horst Schroeder are studying here.

Solensten Given Prize For Poem

John Solensten, English Department, has been awarded a $10 prize for his poem "Tamrack Buck" by the Iowa Poetry Association.

It will also be printed in "Lyrical Iowa," the association's publication.

Mrs. Margaret Garland, Journalism Department, will also have one of her poems printed in the magazine's adult division.

Two students will have their poems printed in the student division. They are freshman Marcia Heggen and senior Richard Rosenmayer.

Library To Be Cooled

Homuth Memorial Library will soon receive air conditioning, according to Dr. John O. Chellevold, dean of faculty.

A unit has been ordered which will utilize the ducts which were placed in the building when it was built. It will cool the reading room, the audio-visual room and some of the foyer.

"It is hoped the unit will be in operation before the summer session begins," said Chellevold.
